Africa's poorest countries. It is in the United States, her adopted country, where she can finally look back at all that has happened and truly understand why God spared her ... so that she would be left to tell her story to the world.

Ilibagiza lost most of her family during the 1994 genocide. Four years later, she emigrated to the United States and began working at the United Nations in New York City.

It's the greatest story never told: that of a boy who met Jesus and dared to ask Him all the questions that have consumed mankind

since the dawn of time.

His name was

Segatashya. He was a

shepherd born into a

penniless and illiterate

pagan family in the most remote region of

Rwanda. He never

attended school, never saw a bible, and never set foot in a church.

Then one summer day

in 1982 while the

15-year-old was resting

beneath a shade tree, Jesus Christ paid him a visit. Jesus asked the startled young man if he'd be willing to go on a mission to remind mankind how to live a life that leads to heaven.
Segatashya accepted the assignment on one condition: that Jesus
answer all his questions-and all the questions of those he met on his travels-about faith, religion, the purpose of life, and the nature of heaven and hell. Jesus agreed to the boy's terms, and Segatashya set off on what would become one of the most miraculous journeys in modern history.

Although he was often accused of being a charlatan and beaten as a result, Segatashya's innocent heart and powerful spiritual wisdom quickly won over even the most cynical of critics. Soon, this teenage boy who had never learned to read or write was discussing theology with leading biblical scholars and advising pastors and priests of all denominations. He became so famous in Rwanda that the Catholic Church investigated his story.

The doctors and psychiatrists who examined Segatashya all agreed that they were witnessing a miracle.

His words and simple truths converted thousands of hearts and souls wherever he went. Before his death during the 1994 Rwandan

The answers to these and many other momentous, life-changing questions are revealed in this riveting book, which is the first full account of Segatashya's remarkable life story. Written with grace, passion, and loving humor by Immaculée Ilibagiza, Segatashya's close friend and a survivor of the Rwandan holocaust

Immaculée Ilibagiza
believes that praying the constantly renewed and richly rewarded by rejoicing in this glorious prayer. It has helped her in every aspect of her life, from literally saving her life to strengthening her faith, easing sorrows, changing heartache into happiness, healing illnesses in herself and others, solving family problems, landing a

Discovering remarkable young woman's journey through the darkness of Rwandan genocide will inspire anyone whose life has been touched by fear, suffering and loss.

Following the transformation of her life in the ten year's since Left to Tell's first publication, this new edition of her bestselling memoir reflects on her

Online Library

Left To Tell

spiritual transformation
since those dark days.

Thirteen years before
the bloody 1994
genocide that swept across Rwanda and left
more than a million people dead, the Virgin Mary and Jesus Christ
appeared to eight young people in the remote village of Kibeho.

Through these

Page 58/67

Online Library

visionaries, Mary and

Jesus warned of the
looming holocaust,

which (they assured)

could be averted if

Rwandans opened their hearts to God and

embraced His love.

Mary also sent messages to government and

church leaders to

instruct them how to end the ethnic hatred

simmering in their

Online Library

country. She warned them that Rwanda would become "a river of blood"—a land of unspeakable carnage—if the hatred of the people was not quickly quelled by love. Some leaders listened, but very few believed. The prophetic and apocalyptic warnings tragically came true during 100 horrifying days of savage bloodletting and mass murder. Much like what happened at similar sites such as Fátima and Lourdes, the messengers of Kibeho were at first mocked and disbelieved. But as miracle after miracle occurred in the tiny village, tens of thousands of Rwandans journeyed to Kibeho to behold the apparitions.

After the genocide, and two decades of rigorous investigation, Our Lady of Kibeho became the first and only Vatican-approved Marian (related to the Virgin Mary) site in all of Africa. But the story still remained largely unknown. Now, however, Immaculée Ilibagiza has changed all that. She has made many pilgrimages to Kibeho, both before and after the holocaust, has personally witnessed true miracles, and has spoken with a number of the visionaries themselves. What she has discovered will deeply touch your heart!

As a girl, Alia Joy came face to face with weakness, poverty, and loss in ways that made her doubt God was good. There were times when it felt as if God had abandoned her.

What she didn't realize then was that God was always there, calling her to abandon herself. In this deeply personal exploration of what it means to be "poor in spirit," Joy challenges our cultural proclivity to

"pull ourselves up by our own bootstraps." She calls on readers to embrace true vulnerability and authenticity with God and with one another, showing how weakness does not disqualify us from inclusion in the kingdom of God--instead, it is our very invitation to enter in. Anyone who has

struggled with feeling
inadequate,
disillusioned, or just too broken will find hope.

This message is an
antidote to despair,
helping readers reclaim
the ways God is good,
even when life is
anything but.
